How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.
As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

W. J. McELROY, Macon, Ga.

A Much Missed Author.
Fran von Olfers, a well known author, who died lately, is much missed in the literary society of Berlin. Hermann Grimm, writing of her in one of the German magazines, compares her with Goethe in the possession of the power of the poet and the enjoyment of the critic. He calls her a "violet in the wood." To the last Fran von Olfers loved most to write of the scenes of her childhood and youth. She thought often of the sad times she had lived through, for as a child she was one of those who accompanied the much loved Queen Louise in her flight to Konigsberg, after the defeat at Jena.

Fran von Olfers always believed in the mental power of the German nation to rise. She never ceased to be young in her enjoyment of life, and might often be met with in her walks in the Thiergarten or in Unter den Linden looking about her with as keen an interest as the foreigner who is there for the first time. She was over ninety when she died, saying that she was tired and needed sleep, although during her long life no one had ever seen her tired, owing to her natural vivacity of character.

Floral Decorations for the Table.
For table decorations the most novel and beautiful combinations are mauve and pale gold, obtained with a mixture of Neapolitan violets and Marechal Niel roses, or flame color and black. The new "flame" tulip is exceptionally lovely and has a delightful fragrance, which is not the case with all its sisters. Single candles in straight silver candlesticks are promising to reign supreme, for a short time, at any rate, and every possible bit of old plate can be brought out and used for flowers, sweets and fruits.

For those who want to utilize their own greenhouse flowers on every occasion a charming arrangement, especially where the white china service is used, is to fill all the pots with palms or ferns, from which trails of flowers spread on the cloth. On the whole, nothing but very high and very low decorating is being done—palms spread above the heads of the diners, and a profusion of dainty, feathery arrangements lie on the tablecloth itself.—Chicago Tribune.

Physical Culture is Spreading.
In the training department for gymnastics which Boston has established as a part of its regular school course the girl students wear a short divided skirt, loose blouse waist without corsets and take the exercises to music. In the Baltimore women's college the regulation suit consists of blouse, knickerbockers, black hose and low shoes. In the Jersey City Athletic club house there is a class of some forty women who regularly take lessons in physical culture in the spacious gymnasium under the direction of a Miss Seiderhase. Here in Brooklyn there have been several classes this winter in different parts of the city, all well attended. These few facts show how rapidly the ideas of physical culture are spreading. The testimony of all who have taken is always favorable. They declare they have received much good and no harm. It is becoming common here, as in Sweden, for women to take these exercises instead of consulting a regular physician.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

been interesting to see how differently the subject has been approached. "I shall bow my head as to a yoke," said one, a woman of high intelligence whose literary spurs have long been won. "If the bill becomes a law, I may not shirk the responsibility if it comes, but I dread it unshakably. We are not ready for the voting power." "How, then," cried another, will politics be purified, unless conscientious women throw the weight of their influence and example on the right side?" "Does it purify a foul sewer to make the opening twice as wide?" was the answer. "For the 100 conscientious women to vote there are 10,000 careless, unprincipled, weak willed and ignorant, with the same power. What will be the result?" This the other speaker would not admit, asserting that the mass of women were of a higher grade of intelligence than the mass of men, and both speakers found in the circle about them an array of adherents. All thoughtful women see that the issue is one which must be met sooner or later, and all, even those who urge its early consummation, acknowledge its grave responsibilities.—New York Times.

No Women Clowns.
It seems strange, now that women are claiming so many places monopolized by the male, that there should be no candidates for a calling they once shared with men; but though one sees circuses with all sorts of clowns, one knows of none adorned by a Miss Merryman. The latest historical mention of a jester is, strangely enough, associated with the Bloody Assize. Judge Jeffreys took his fool with him on that hideous expedition, and on one occasion tossed him a "pardon" for sale.—London Illustrated News.

A Hard Corner.
The age of 30 is a hard corner for a woman to turn, and 35 is still harder. She feels that she is fast leaving her youth behind her. But there is no reason why a woman should be faded and passe at 35, or even at 45. The chief cause of the early fading of American women is found in the fact that many of them suffer from some form of female weakness or disease which robs the face of its bloom, draws dark circles about the eyes, brings early wrinkles and sallowness, and stamps the face and figure with ill-health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure all these troubles, will bring back the lost bloom, and remove the pains and ailments which make women grow old before their time. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded.

C. A. Richardson has leased the Arcade Hotel and will open it this evening. The public is invited to call and partake of a lunch especially prepared for the occasion. The Juvenile Band will discontinue enlivening airs and everybody will be made welcome.

Captain A. D. Griffin of Peavine, who spent the Winter East, has returned in excellent health and spirits. He says silver is discussed East as well as West, and is really one of the great economical issues of the day. Very many have only a vague idea of the subject, but the farmers whose mortgages are becoming due thoroughly understand it, as the prices of their products share the fate of silver and advance or decline as it does.

THE DEMOCRATIC COVENTION.

The Vote on the Resolution Against Nominating Electors

In the Democratic State Convention at Winnemucca there were two factions, one composed of the machine men and those who could control, and the other of uncompromising advocates of free coinage. The influence of the machine was strongest in Washoe and Ormsby, where the "patrons" who fought, bled and died in the mint and other Federal positions under Cleveland, are most numerous, though its power was noticeable in the Storey county delegation and it "influenced" one vote out of seven in Lyon county. The first tilt between the factions was on the election of Chairman, when Westerfield of Lyon, a Silver League man and an uncompromising advocate of free coinage, was elected over W. W. Bocher of Elko, who was sprung by the "party-before-prosperity" men. The next was on a motion to strike out the nomination of Presidential elections from the order of business. This elicited much debate and finally carried by a vote of 75 to 50, the several counties voting as follows:

For: Douglas 3, Esmeralda 7, Eureka 10, Humboldt 11, Lander 7, Lincoln 4, Lyon 6, Nye 3, Storey 19, White Pine 5; total, 76.

Against: Elko 15, Lyon 1, Ormsby 9, Storey 9, Washoe 16; total, 50.

This threw the ex-Federal Brigade and their followers into complete disorder. They saw they were outnumbered by the league men and they lowered their colors, muttering the while, "Darn Cleveland, we're for silver anyhow."

Telling the Truth.

It's common saying that newspapers lie, but when an editor writes a thing and puts his name to it you may be sure that he is telling the truth. Read this: "We have never before said one word in favor of any patent medicine advertisement in our columns, but having given Simmons' Liver Regulator a fair trial, we do not hesitate to say, that for dyspepsia and general debility it cannot be excelled."—FRED M. CARLSON, editor "News," Centin, Ohio.

The I. O. O. F. Party.

A number of Reno's jolly spirits known as the I. O. O. F. tendered to the Virginia City and Gold Hill High School Seniors a party, which from a social standpoint was one of the events of the season. It was most largely attended, and with the visiting friends from Virginia and Gold Hill there was a most decided jolly time. Lack of space forbids further mention of the pleasant affair.

Cadets, Attention!

The University Cadets are requested to report at their armory on Monday, May 29th, at 9 A. M. sharp.

Reports and Honor Rolls for May, 1892.

To the Board of School Trustees—GENTLEMEN: I herewith respectfully present my report for the school month ending May 20, 1892:

The attendance has been good, and in general satisfactory work has been done in the various grades. The closing examinations are near, and we are endeavoring to get pupils into as good condition as possible for promotion. I have some special matters to present to the Board in reference to promotions and graduating exercises.

Respectfully submitted,

NEVADA BRAUN AND BRAIN.

The University Field Day With Many Broken Records.

One of the most successful Field Days in the history of the State University was held yesterday at the University campus in the presence of a large crowd of enthusiastic friends of the institution. Slowly, but surely, our State University is rising to the dignity of one of the recognized educational institutions of the West. With a learned and capable President, an able and energetic faculty and earnest and intelligent students the State University is fast becoming one of the cherished objects of State.

The students well versed in all those interesting college customs that make university life so charming and all being disciples of that axiomatic principle: "A sound mind in a sound body" as the most conducive to intellectual growth, demonstrated beyond all doubt that they are at least the physical peers of any similar body of students on the Coast. That they are the intellectual peers goes without saying.

Nevada young men are the most superb specimens of physical manhood on the Coast. Reared in a climate where the invigorating atmosphere gives perfect lung development, where the mountainous conditions develop muscle, where every climatic environment is in harmony with perfect physical growth they would under proper and systematic training easily carry off the honors in those lines.

Nevada boys have made records in California of which they may well be proud. Though Nevada students have been few in numbers, yet they have almost always carried off more than their proportion of honors.

In the University of California M. L. Wines of Eureka, son of Lawyer Wines of this city, Adria Ellis of Carson and Ernest B. Folsom of Carson have respectively held the championship records of the 100 yards dash. Ernest Folsom also led in a number of other athletic events while George Foulke of Verdi has held the record on the mile walk. Moll Wines was a member of the champion base ball team, as was also Adrian Ellis. Ernest Folsom and George Foulke have each served with honor in football teams. Orvis Traxway of Napa broke a number of records. So much for Nevada boys in other places.

Yesterday's Field Day exercises demonstrated that we have many champions among us here. The most noticeable event of the day, which called forth cheers, was the remarkable record of Ed. Caine in the 100 yards dash, which was made in 10.15 seconds, breaking all Nevada records. He not only runs a swift race but is a runner of perfect grace.

A large body of friends of the students and lovers of sport crowded the campus all afternoon. There were a number of records broken and the day taken as a whole was a most pleasing success. The following were the events:

1. Throwing the baseball—Won by Clovis LaGrave, 288.45; Egan second.

2. Three legged race—Won by Brown and Lewers, Time, 15 seconds.

3. Putting 16-pound shot—Won by A. M. Lewers; 81 feet, 8.4-5 inches.

4. One hundred yard scratch—Won by Ed. Caine; 10.2-5 seconds.

5. Standing broad jump—Won by Ed. Caine; 9 feet 6 inches.

6. Running broad jump—Won by S. Durkee; 15 feet 9 inches.

7. One hundred yard handicap—Won by Ed. Caine, scratch; time, 10.1-6 seconds.

8. Standing high jump—Won by C. R. Lewers; 4 feet 3 inches.

9. Fifty yard backward race—Won by A. Robinson; 9 seconds.

10. Running high jump—Won by C. R. Lewers; 4 feet 9 inches.

11. Pole vault—Won by A. Robinson; 7 feet 4 inches.

12. Hurdle race—Won by A. Cunningham.

13. Hop, step and jump—Won by Caine; 26.42 feet.

14. Two hundred and twenty yard handicap—Won by Caine; 24 seconds.

15. Potato race—Declared off.

16. Running hop, step and jump, declared off.

17. Tug of war—Won by Commercial Class.

The Juvenile Band discoursed music. They attracted a good deal of attention and won much praise. They are a credit to Reno.

Chas. Brown, who it was expected would break the record so sprained his ankle as to be unable to make a finish.

The dashes made by E. Caine were remarkable, and his records place him among the crack amateurs of the Coast.

AN EXPLANATION AND ANSWER.

WHAT IS WINTERILLA?

Why, it is a pleasant and effective remedy for the positive cure of Chapped Hands, Poison Oak, Salt Rheum, Eczema, Sun Burn, Tan, positively removes freckles, and is one of the greatest luxuries for gentlemen after shaving. This is an exquisite article prepared with the greatest care by scientific experts. Its component parts are perfectly harmless, and the ladies toilet is not complete without it. One trial will convince the most skeptical that what we say of WINTERILLA is true. For sale by all druggists in 25c and 50c bottles.

For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

chinese. Her salary allows her to travel in good style, living at the best hotels. She has just gone to London direct from Moscow, and expects shortly to start for Melbourne, all in the way of business. One firm of manufacturers in London employs lady travelers, and many others, especially manufacturers of dress goods in which a woman's taste is of value, would be willing to engage women instead of men, provided the women had business capacity, a good appearance, good manners and a good physique to endure the fatigue involved in constant travel.—Yankee Blade.

Woman Suffrage and the Right of Suffrage.
The argument that voting is a natural right, is a dangerous basis of the claim of suffrage, because, if the community may restrict the right at all in the interest of the community, it may restrict the right to the degree which it thinks necessary to secure that interest. A law providing for equal suffrage will be passed, whenever the present electorate is convinced that such a law is desirable for the common welfare. The common remark that women will vote whenever they prove that they wish to vote is foolish, because that can never be done. They will vote whenever men think that the common interest will be promoted by their voting.—Harper's Weekly.

Chicago's Woman Dean.
The position of dean of the Woman's college of the Chicago university has been given to Miss Julia E. Bulkeley, who has for several years been principal of the public schools at Plainfield, N. J., and has also been well known in connection with educational work at Chautauque. Miss Bulkeley is a New Englander born and bred, and was educated at Mount Holyoke seminary. She has traveled a great deal in the United States and Canada and recently spent a year and a half in traveling through Europe and Asia. Her writings on education are well known.—Exchange.

The Beauties of Civilization.
It is interesting to know that an intelligent hairdresser claims that blonds cannot be done away with, that blonds are essentially the beauties of civilization, and that they cannot be driven away. He says that the blond can dress more effectively, and that a well kept blond has ten years' advantage in the point of youthful looks. You cannot expunge her in favor of the brunette even in literature, for in the novels turned out during the past year there have been 383 blonds to 83 brunettes.—London Tit-Bits.

The Washington Family Bible.
Mary Washington's family Bible is on exhibition at Mount Vernon, and is in excellent preservation, except for the loss of the first few pages, that were torn out and placed in the cornerstone of the Mary Washington monument at Fredericksburg, Va. The book has a cover of homespun cloth, which was put on by Mary Washington herself, and the first entry recorded in the volume is the marriage of Augustine Washington and Mary Ball in 1731. Following it is the birth of George Washington, in February, 1732.

North Carolina Women Active.
The women of North Carolina are organizing throughout the state for the purpose of raising the $10,000 with which to erect the state building for the World's fair. The building will be a reproduction of the "Tryon place," a celebrated structure which was the home of the governors in colonial days. The women also contemplate placing in the Woman's building a memorial to Virginia Dare, who, it is claimed, was the first white child born in this country.

Electrical Housework.
Ventilation, knife-cleaning, hat and linen ironing, cooking, and, in fact, everything domestic that needs heat or light or power is to be done electrically in connection with the electric exhibit at the Crystal palace. The electric cookery is stated to be especially clean and dainty.—New York World.

A Woman Preacher Called.
The Immanuel Baptist church of Ashland extended a call to Miss Frances Townsley, of Chicago, to supply the vacant pastorate. Miss Townsley accepted the offer and entered upon her duties Sunday.—Cor. Lincoln (Neb.) State Journal.

Women Don't Propose.
There have been very few proposals this leap year. Women do not hesitate to say that, with the growing extravagance of the men in mind, they do not feel justified in undertaking the support of a husband.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Miss Annie Clarke closes with this season her long connection with the Boston Museum company of players, and it is proposed to make her retirement from the practice of the art which she has adorned the occasion of a testimonial benefit.

Mrs. Richard A. Proctor, the widow of the astronomer, was married not long ago in London to Dr. James Cammace Smythe, of Belfast, Ireland. Dr. and Mrs. Smythe are spending their honeymoon in Scotland.

In addition to her great fame as a novelist and an archaeologist, the late Miss Amelia Edwards was a traveler of some distinction. Her experiences were embodied in two interesting books of travel.

The oldest bride of recent mention is Eliza A. Clark, of New York, who, according to some of her relatives, was ninety-one when, in February, 1892, she was married to Dr. Marvin Hubbell.

Virginia will be represented as one of the thirteen original states at the World's fair by Miss Lolla Harrison, of Leesburg, who has been selected for that honor because of her great beauty.

Jean B. Greenleaf, president of the New York State Suffrage association, reports six counties as organized, with the creditable showing of 1,122 members.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

GREAT SUCCESS MADE BY WOMEN IN THE ACTORS' FUND FAIR.

A Pretty Woman's Business.—A Girl Describes English Clothes.—Woman Suffrage, Pro and Con.—Limiting Women's Working Hours.—Interesting Items.

It has been my experience that women accomplish most things which they undertake. They may fail in fields where men succeed, but in their particular line, as I might say, using a theatrical expression, they are the superiors of the opposite sex.

It is with great reluctance that the cynical and worldly part of male creation admits woman's usefulness in those things in which he heretofore has been unapproachable. He will begin, and if possible end, by scoffing and belittling her work, and if he is obliged to concede anything he does it with such a bad grace as to show his disappointment at her success.

When the women of the theatrical profession undertook to hold a fair for the benefit of the Actor's fund there were those among the male members who laughed at the idea, and if they made any comment, ended their remarks with a contemptuous shrug of the shoulders. I do not wish to give the impression that all male members of the profession made light of the women's proposed efforts, but the majority, even if they said nothing, at least thought the fair, as originally intended, an impossibility.

In the fair just closed the women of the theatrical profession have demonstrated their ability successfully to carry out any idea, no matter how colossal. The receipts (over $200,000) indicate the character of the work which they have performed. Each day has seen the Madison Square garden crowded with thousands, who, by their presence and money, showed their appreciation of the good work.

Actresses of highest reputation have worked night and day, and now that their labors are over, they have the happy consciousness that their time was not spent in vain.

The profession as a whole is under great obligations to the public, without which its efforts would not have met with the present success.—Georgia Cavan in New York Journal.

A Pretty Woman's Business.

Business men down town are quite stirred up over a young woman solicitor, who has recently appeared among them. When you see two or three of them gathered together it is safe to wager that the pretty mulberry seller is the subject of conversation, for she has, in slang phraseology, "captured" them all. She is an English girl and answers to the five volume romance name of Vere Boudree. She is a blond, with a rose leaf complexion and great staring brown eyes. Her beauty is absolutely startling, but the strangest thing about her is that she seems absolutely unconscious of it and has a quick, straightforward, business manner that is in singular variance with her appearance. She enters an office, where her good looks never fail to gain her immediate attention, steps briskly up to the occupant and in pleasant English voice, which occasionally fails to appreciate an "Oh," states her business briefly and exhibits her wares, of which, being an article in general use and not expensive, she usually effects a sale.

Not infrequently she is drawn into conversation by some susceptible banker or lawyer. She never exhibits either pleasure or annoyance in such cases, but answers all questions frankly and modestly, even when they are of a personal nature. It is needless to say that she makes a success of her business, her profits averaging from seven to ten dollars per week. Her success demonstrates, too, that a pretty woman can circulate among men in a business way without any detriment to her modesty if she only has herself well in hand and attends strictly to business.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Girl Describes English Clothes.

We spent yesterday morning in the park, which was blossoming like the time with spring bonnets and the brightest of sunshades. I see that men are wearing waists this season, some with only just an indication of the fact and others with an indiscreet accentuation that must mean corsets. Their ties are all full and fluffy again this spring, and so far as we could judge the favorite color for frock coats is a pretty shade of silver gray. Their black frock coats and morning coats are again rough in surface, and on a dusty day, as yesterday was, these woolly cloths seem to catch and retain every floating atom. Charlie declares that he spent a fortune on clothes brushed last year, and says he wishes there were coat brushes at street corners as well as bootblacks.

Color seems to be quite demoted this spring. One sees the most hideous contrasts in women's dress. We saw a green and purple in the park that set our teeth on edge, so very green and ultra purple were the shades. In a well appointed carriage sat a pretty woman wearing a tweed gown and sleeves of tulip red velvet. Her wide brimmed hat was in similar velvet, with black feathers for trimming and a large bunch of Russian violets standing erect at the back. Now, Amy dear, who could admire red and violet in conjunction with each other? The shaded sunshades are quite too hideous. We saw one in stripes of yellow and green that would have made the least imaginative of human beings feel bilious and assume a seaisick expression of countenance.—Cor. London Truth.

Woman Suffrage, Pro and Con.

The recent passage by the New York assembly of the woman's suffrage bill has aroused a fresh tide of discussion of the matter. In gatherings of women it has come up for comment, and it has
